

I am really tired of the FCC trying to control everything. Why are you trying to limit everything?? I pay money for this service and XM is trying to give me the best possible service for my money and now you want to take it away.